

family law information clinics

Family breakdown is often a difficult process for all concerned, and there is inevitably a lot to think about. Where will you live? How will the finances work? What will happen with the children?

Our family law team is committed to helping people resolve their differences as constructively and amicably as possible, minimising the confrontation, costs and emotional distress that can be so damaging.

Your local clinic

The team in Leeds, which consists of family law specialist solicitors (including collaboratively trained lawyers and family mediators), offers free information clinics to people who are going through separation or divorce, or who have issues relating to children, and would like to discuss their options. The clinics are strictly by appointment only and run, subject to availability, between 12pm and 2pm, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Clinics last for no more than 30 minutes per individual and are intended to provide information about the different ways of resolving disputes so that a more informed decision may be made as to the way forward, and we can consider with you the extent to which we may assist you further.
